

Dear friends,

From the pulpit we are learning about the importance of good habits and that this is the perfect time of year to rid yourself of a few unhealthy practices so you have margin to recommit to a few healthy ones. Let us help. Join us for worship, a few fun outings, a service project or a new Bible study this fall. If you are intentional about spending time with God and Christian community, you will get to know God and others in a more meaningful way. There are lots of ways to engage but if you have questions on where to begin, give one of us a call. We'd enjoy the chance to know you better.

Grace and peace,
